

SLOW POLITICS. What Europe needs in the Age of Crisis

Berliner Gazette Conference 2014

November 13–15th

#bgcon14

Meet Ups

The conference "Slow Politics" consists of five tracks. Each track is developed in dialogue with a group that has emerged at one of the Berliner Gazette events in recent years. (The "Next Europe"-group is created anew in the context of "Slow Politics".) Each group is a network of people from all over Europe (and beyond) dedicated to specific issues. In the preparation phase of "Slow Politics" each track of the conference is attributed to one of the groups, for whom the Berliner Gazette organises informal gatherings (Meet Ups). Here the respective group approaches the conference topics and brainstorms the focal points, hands on tasks and additional participants of the conference tracks, which are curated by the Berliner Gazette team and open to the wider public.

The "Open Cultures" -group is related to the "Public in Peril"-track of "Slow Politics".

The "Journo-Coders" is related to the "We are all Migrants"-track of "Slow Politics".

The "New Moves" -group is related to the "One for all & all for one"-track of "Slow Politics".

The "Future Web" -group is related to the "After NSA-Gate"-track of "Slow Politics".

The "Next Europe" -group is related to the "The Big We"-track of "Slow Politics".
